OPERATING INSTRUCTIONS:

Stun Gun Activation

Red Stun Gun Indicator Light

Stun Gun/Flashlight Switch

Main Power Switch

SELF-DEFENSE TOOL

For non-lethal, self-defense purposes. Aim for the assailant's thighs, arms, knees, shins, elbows or hands, and swing the self-defense tool all the way through.

THE STUN GUN

Move the power switch located at the bottom of the self-defense tool to the "On" position. To arm, slide the switch on the side of the button all the way up. A red light will illuminate, indicating that the stun gun is ready for use. To activate the voltage, press the stun button above the red light.

RECHARGING

Slide the button on the bottom of the device in order to extend the AC cord. Plug into a standard 110v/220v AC wall socket. Charge time is approximately 5 hours.

TESTING

To test, turn on the stun power and hold the "stun" button for one second or less. A bright spark will jump across the electrodes.

USING THE STUN GUN

With the gun armed, hold the electrodes against the assailant and press the stun button.

The most effective stun areas: shoulders, hips, thigh, buttocks, and below the ribcage.

Please note, while holding the stun gun against the body, you will not see or hear the spark. You can continue to fire the stun gun for as long as needed and carefully review the Effects of Use section of this manual for the full range of effects when using the stun gun.

EFFECTS OF THE STUN GUN

A shock from the stun gun lasting one second or less will cause pain and minor muscle contractions.

Stunning the assailant for 1 to 2 full seconds will cause muscle spasms and a dazed mental state.

Stunning the assailant for 3 to 5 full seconds will result in loss of balance and muscle control.

WARNING

To avoid accidental discharge, always move the on/off switch to the "Off" position when not in use.

Each user should check local laws in your jurisdiction about the laws governing the right to own, store and use this device. This device may be prohibited and/or regulated by state and local laws.

THE FLASHLIGHT

Move the power switch located at the bottom of the self-defense tool to the "On" position. Then, slide the switch on the side of the self-defense tool halfway up; the LED flashlight will illuminate and be set to its default "Low" mode.

A red light will illuminate, indicating that the stun gun is ready for use. To activate the voltage, press the stun button above the red light.

ADJUSTING THE MODE

To alternate between the three flashlight modes:

- "Low": Slide the switch halfway up
- "High": Slide the switch back down and then halfway up a second time
- "Strobe": Slide the switch back down and then halfway up a third time

WARNING

Keep away from flammable materials that may burn. Do not submerge in water or any other liquids. Avoid flashing the light directly into someone's eyes; doing so may impair their vision.
